Something of Interest to Wage Earners

Speech of W. H. Harvey, Author of
"Coin's Financial School," at Greenville,
O., May 16, 1896, Before the Order of Patriots of America.

MR. CHAIRMAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, AND MEMBERS OF THE ORDER OF THE PATRIOTS OF AMERICA—I have come to your county to speak here today, to encourage your unselfish citizens who have raised the standard of an order intended to regulate the civic conduct of the nation and to free our government from the control of all selfish organizations.

When great questions have pressed themselves upon the United States, the people of Ohio have been true to the traditions of Jefferson and Lincoln. When questions affecting the liberties of the people and the existence of the republic have demanded a verdict, the people of Ohio have spoken intelligently on the side of humanity.

Individual selfishness crystallized into laws has been the cause of the downfall of all republics. When the people of a republic, by example and training, become worshippers of mammon, all laws are made and construed for the accumulation and protection of property interests and the principles of humanity are neglected. It is the crucial period in the history of a republic. In the history of the world no people of a republic have ever successfully met and overthrown the spirit of selfishness. In the history of popular governments selfishness has manipulated the lawmaking power and absorbed the property of the people into the hands of the few. Then came distress and riots and the claim that the republic was a failure, and then came monarchy.

Spirit of Mammonism.
It is a spirit of mammonism that causes us to worship wealth and the opinion of those who possess wealth. The men of wealth are the best business men we have, but the least capable of understanding the principles upon which a republic is founded.

The men to whom I refer wish laws that encourage unbridled selfishness. Such men are the enemies of republics. Their opinions are not the opinions that the masses of the people should follow.

We are living under laws that are making their impress upon our civilization; that, if further permitted, will result as fatally to our republic and to human happiness as have the feudal laws of Europe and any that have overthrown the republics of the past.

We have learned, however, in this republic what the people of other republics discovered too late to save their free institutions—that selfish interests may capture not only individuals, but organizations. More than one political organization in the United States is today struggling in the toils of a selfish class.

The unselfish people are looking on with mingled feelings of anxiety and humiliation. The unrelenting of the weeks and days is now bringing us to the time when manhood will sit in judgment on the action of the pretended leaders of the people; when men will decide for themselves whether their political party is to carry them with selfish interests.

Chief among the laws affecting our civilization, defended by selfish interests, is our financial laws, and that brings me to the subject uppermost in the minds of the American people.

I am going to present today, in the brief space of a speech, the side of the people in this issue, now on trial in the republic. I do not hope to reach those who are seeking to promote their selfish vanity, or those who are consciously or unconsciously seeking to promote their selfish interests. My appeal will be to the unselfish American people, who recognize the principle that man serves himself best by promoting the common good.

The Importance of Money.
Money is the blood of commerce, the life giving fluid of civilization, the vital organism in our social existence. You can do without wheat, corn, beef or any other single commodity classed among the necessities of life and yet be healthy and happy, but you cannot imagine yourself a part of civilization and do without money. You can do without wheat by using corn or rice for bread; you can do without beef by using pork or mutton for meat, but you cannot be a part of civilization and do without money. Without money society would go back to barbarism. It is the most important factor we have in civilization and may well be termed the blood of civilization. It is an indispensable necessity to civilization.

One of the rules that should be applied to any necessity is that there should be a normal quantity of it. There is a necessity for so much bread. There is also a necessity for a normal supply of money. If there were laws other than the laws of barter encouraging the hoarding of wheat that operated to store it away in elevators while people suffered for the want of it, you would be in favor of repealing those laws. If there was not enough of it raised to feed the people, you would be in favor of raising more of it. If we have laws that encourage the hoarding of money, the greatest of necessities, and diverting it from the channels of trade, by which the people and the nation are made to suffer for it, and to pay blackmail in order to get it, you should demand the repeal of those

THE GRANGE SALE.

Nearly $4000 Worth of Stock Sold—Not the Usual Crowd.

Owing to the rain in the early morning, the usual great crowd did not attend the sale at Church Hill Grange Friday. The crowd probably did not exceed 400 or 500, but the sale was one of the best held in recent years. About 220 head of cattle were sold and the sales aggregated close on to $4000. Mr. J. R. Caudle acted as auctioneer. The usual elegant dinner was spread for all present and although the weather threatened to be inclement, there was no rain after the sale began about 11 o'clock. The official report of the sale appears below:

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Pastor Resigns—Two Narrow Escapes—Big Cattle Deal—Mrs. Day Dead—Delaney Must Serve—Jim Crow Cars.

Two Great Speeches.

If there are any Democrats in Christian county who have been misled by the vicious goldbug literature so energetically circulated during the last ten days, we commend to them the two great speeches we publish today. The address by Gov. Altgeld, printed at his own expense and sent to Kentucky as an answer to Secretary Carlisle's recent speech in defense of the administration, is an exhaustive treatise on the question and should be filed away for the historical information it contains. Gov. Altgeld shows that the ablest men of the past as well as the great leaders of the present have been advocates of bimetallism, and that the Democratic party has always been committed to that policy. He exposes the false claim that the per capita in this country is $26, and proves by official reports that it is but little more than half that amount. The speech is long, but it will well repay a careful perusal by those in search of the truth. The other speech, delivered by Mr. W. H. Harvey, the best posted man in the country on monetary statistics, is a plain, business like discussion of the currency question as it affects the individual. It is truthful, convincing and entertaining and completely answers the fallacies of such "attorneys for the defense," as Aldredge, Patterson and others who have suddenly changed their own convictions and are trying to induce Democrats to forsake their principles of a life time. Read both of these speeches and show them to your neighbors and then make up your minds to attend the convention Saturday and help to sustain the right. SILVER MUST BE RESTORED.

Into Deep Water.

While enroute to the Grange sale Friday Dr. Jno. P. Bell drove into an open culvert near W. W. West's, that had been washed away by the heavy rains. The water was about fifteen feet deep and before he knew how it happened he found himself and horse struggling in the water. Dr. Bell quickly threw off his heavier clothing and jumped out of the buggy and began swimming out with his horse; while engaged in this way M. S. Major came up and plunged into the water and assisted in rescuing the horse, which was on the point of being drowned. Dr. Bell being an expert swimmer was not in danger of losing his life. Mr. Major lost his McIntosh, which was swept away during the excitement.

Eld. J. W. Mitchell Resigns.

Eld. J. W. Mitchell, pastor of the Christian church, tendered his resignation Sunday, to take effect in three months. Eld. Mitchell has been pastor of the church for four years and has been very popular with his congregation. The resignation was a complete surprise. The best of feeling exists between the pastor and his members and Eld. Mitchell gave no reason except to state that he thought it best for a minister not to remain too long in the same place. The church has not yet taken action, but the resignation will likely be accepted.

Another Stand-off.

Henderson won Thursday's game of ball at the Athletic park, in this city, by a score of 8 to 4. Friday's game, however, reversed the order of things and Hopkinsville won by 8 to 4. Madisonville played our local team yesterday and will play again here today. The game today is expected to be especially good, as both teams are in fine trim and the crowd will likely be the largest that has witnessed the sport this season.

Death of Mrs. C. M. Day.

Crofton, May 25.—Mrs. Lucy E. Day, wife of Mr. C. M. Day, L. & N. agent at Crofton, died yesterday afternoon of congestion of the brain and lungs, after an illness of several days. Mrs. Day had been night operator for the L. & N. here for several years and was a valuable employee. She was 40 years old and leaves a husband and two little daughters. The funeral took place this afternoon, Rev. Miss Cratz, a spiritualist of Evansville, conducting the service. The remains were buried in Crofton Cemetery.

A Close Call.

During the thunder storm Friday morning, lightning struck two large forest trees in Mr. M. V. Owen's front lawn, near the city, within a few feet of his house. One of the trees was blasted and stripped of its bark to the ground, the other being only split. The stock was terrified and the occupants of the dwelling close by had a very narrow escape.

THE LYONS QUINTET.

There Promises to be a Suit for the Work of Controlling and for Embalming the Babies.

Undertaker Nance still has charge of the Lyons babies and declines to surrender them either to Dr. Matthews, of Mayfield, or the father of the quintette unless they pay $500 for the embalming. He will bury the babies and furnish a coffin, and make no charge. If, however, afterward the remains are taken up, he will prefer the charge of grave robbery. Dr. Matthews claims he has secured the privilege of taking the remains of the babies to the Tennessee centennial at Nashville for exhibition. If they are to be exhibited over the country Undertaker Nance wants $500 for his work before they go out of his possession. The relatives and parents of the quintet, it is said, are willing for Undertaker Nance to retain possession of them. Dr. Matthews was in the city yesterday afternoon and is still in the city. He intends to secure a writ of delivery. Undertaker Nance has an attorney who is advising him. If the writ of delivery is gotten out, and it is probable that it will be this afternoon, Mr. Nance will execute bond and still retain possession of the babies.

This forenoon he proposed to permit the babies to go to Nashville in his possession provided that Dr. Matthews and Mr. Lyon would agree to accept two-thirds of the proceeds from the exhibits and let him retain the other third. Dr. Matthews would not agree to the proposition and now Mr. Nance intends to use every legal means to hold them, unless they are at once buried, until his bill of $500 is paid. No one is now permitted to see the remains of the babies—Paducah News.

Judge D. G. Park, of Mayfield, as attorney for Dr. Matthews and Oscar Lyons, of Graves county, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon to confer with undertaker Nance regarding those five little bones of contention, the Lyons' babies. Although the matter is not yet definitely settled, it is probable that Mr. Nance will agree to accept $300 for embalming the dead quintette, instead of $500, which was the price he set at first. No arrangements have been made for exhibiting the infants.—Paducah Visitor.

No Niagara Trip in Store.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of The Kentucky Press Association, held at the Galt House, in Louisville, yesterday, it was decided to accept the invitation of the Southern Railway Co. to visit Cumberland Island, an ocean resort off the coast of Georgia adjacent to Brunswick. The Association will leave Georgetown in the morning or evening, on June 26th, arriving at Brunswick the following evening and thence by boat to Cumberland Island, which, it is understood, is a most delightful place, offering besides an opportunity to take a plunge in the surf and enjoy the exhilarating effects of a sea bath, many attractions for the entertainment and pleasure of visitors. The Committee have about completed the program for the meeting at Georgetown, and will give it out for publication as soon as the details are arranged. Everything points to a large attendance and most enjoyable time.—Danville Advocate.

Oldest Man in the World.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 23.—Noah Raby, the oldest man in the world, is lying on his bed at the poor farm, three miles from this city, awaiting death.

On April 1 the old man celebrated his 124 birthday. Several weeks ago he was taken ill, and has sunk steadily, until his death is looked for at any time. Raby was born April 1, 1772, and up to his recent illness has always been in excellent health. There is evidence to show that his age is correct.

Gen. Echols Dead.

Staunton, Va., May 24.—Gen. John Echols died here to-night at 8 o'clock at the home of his son, Senator Edward Echols, surrounded by his wife and his two children, Senator Echols and Mrs. Erskine Miller.

Gen. Echols was 73 years old and had been prominent in railroad circles for many years. He had a brilliant record in the Confederate army.

Decided Against Delaney.

Frankfort, May 22.—The Court of Appeals this morning affirmed the judgment of the Union Circuit Court in the case of the Commonwealth against George Delaney, sentenced to six years in the penitentiary for participating in the celebrated Abbie Oliver murder.

Coin to Talk in Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., May 22.—The Managers of the Chautauqua have arranged for a debate here between the Hon. R. G. Horr and W. H. Harvey, be of Coin's School fame, on July 4. The money question will be the subject of the debate.
